

Today we are delighted to spotlight our third profile in the month of March, as a follow-up to International Womens Day!

We are featuring Solène Martin, our General Manager of Lamantin Beach Resort and Spa managed by Accor in Senegal, who joined us at the end of last year.

A woman motivated by overcoming challenges; Solène started her career as a trainee receptionist and worked her way up to managing the 166-key hotel with over 200 employees.

Solène has a very clear idea of what she likes about her work:

"What I enjoy most about my job is seeing the stars in the eyes of my clients and helping my employees grow and develop."

Having been with us under a year, Solène explains: "Kasada has given me a chance, supports me and supports my growth through the various challenges it gives me. I work in an environment where I feel good and, above all, in which I feel I can grow. This is very important to me."

She believes it is important for women to support each other and to push each other forward rather than compete: "The problem is that we live in a world where women are competing and being compared - we are all different, we should learn to support each other and move forward together instead. My message is always the same: 'Shine, you were born to do it!'"

Finally, if she were to give one piece of advice to young women who want to follow the same path, she would tell them: "There is no secret, work, work and work! Believe in your dreams even if life and the outside world sow doubt."

Thank you to Solène for her story, we are proud to see that her determination continues to push her to the top and we will continue to support her in her development.
